Valley Island Wants Molokai Baseball Scalp

Eighteen Players of Maui
League May Journey To
Kaunakakai and Stage "Little Series" on Sunday.

While the Ty Cobbs Chris Mathewsons, and Ping Bodies are fighting up to their necks in Honolulu to annex the Territorial pennant, its quite probable that Kaunakakai will be the scene of an invading horde of ball tossers.

Thoroughly disgusted after reading an article in the Maui News on Tuesday, that Kaunakakai, somewhere on Molokai, had annexed the lonely isle title of baseball champions Bill Engle the manager of the Mandarins of or own major circuit, decided some one ought to show those Kaunakakai a few tricks of the diamond. Therefore a message was radiated through the air between here and Molokai this morning asking that a game be arranged for Sunday and up on receiving a favorable reply the good ship Makaiwa will hit the water line under the weight of Bill and 18 husky warriors from various parts of the island and Saturday morning will sail forth, Kaunakakai bound that the "Little Island Series" may be staged.

Manager Engle is taking no chances on the effects that feeding the fish may have upon his men and so he is going to sail at four a. m. Saturday, figuring that by leaving at such early hour his players will stand more of a show at recuperating from the ill effects on the voyage through the Molokai channel. The return is expected to be made Sunday night.

Being that the Maui News correspondent on Molokai failed to send along the score of the championship affray, Engle thinks that perhaps the lonely isle scribe was ashamed too, with the result that Maui stock is pretty high among the boys that will make the trip if Molokai is willing.

The following are the Hans Wagner's that have been selected to drop Kaunakakai down a notch: A. Rego; J. Rego; Haole; Kuwada; H. Jones; D. Yanagi; Wm. Cockett; Scholtz (providing he does not go to Honolulu); F. Bal; A. Paschoal; H. Wong; J. L. Silva; August Moniz; Frank Kulu; Wm. Cummings; Smith; Ah tau Yee; and Dan Wong.

Late last night Engle received a wire calling off the game. The trip will not be made.

CONFERENCE HALTED

CHANG CHUNG, Sept. 11—The Russian delegation to the Russo-Japan conference being held here have submitted a notice that "negotiations can not be limited to far eastern questions." Japanese delegates have telegraphed Tokio for instructions. The conference will be resumed today.

NEW LIGHT FOR KUMUKAHI

HONOLULU Sept. 11—Superintendent of lighthouses, Tinkham of the Hawaiian district, announced that he would recommend to the department in Washington the establishment of a new lighthouse on the Cape of Kumukahi, island of Hawaii, costing in the neighborhood of $50,000.
Superintendent Tinkham returned from an inspection trip of the islands on the Kukul.

Pluvius Puts Damper On All-Maui Match

The muchly toed clash between the two All Maui nines was considerably dampened Sunday afternoon by old "Jup" Pluvius, in fact, after the last of the second inning it was so thoroughly soaked as to make it impossible to continue the game without placing in jeopardy all the hopes that have welled in the Maui sportsmen's chests, of coping a high position in the title series that opens in Honolulu Saturday.

George Cummings' nine tallied in the first stanza and Harold Rice's team followed suit in the second half of the inning. The sheriff's department annexed three counters in the second frame but by the time the opposition were at bat it was raining so hard that the batmen were unable to locate the ball and the side was retired without scoring.

Rooting Sections

Reserved for Fans
At Island Series

Word was received this morning from J. Ashman Beaven to the effect that the Honolulu demand for reserved seats at the Inter-Island baseball championship games was quite heavy and that he anticipates difficulty in placing late arrivals from the outer islands.

Beaven has reserved a section containing 102 seats for the Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui fans that are to be on hand to witness the contests and says he will hang on to them until 11 a. m. on Saturday before placing them on sale in Honolulu.

The section has been divided into three parts, one for Maui, Hawaii, and Kauai, and as far as possible Beaven will bunch the fans from each outlying station so that as much noise as is possible can be made.

Drop a postcard to Box 511, Honolulu, and you will be assured of a good seat among rooters of your own clan.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11—The new Los Angeles-Hawaii steamer service was inaugurated today when the steamer City of Los Angeles sails for Hawaii with upwards of 300 southern California passengers among whom are Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles and many other prominent persons.

Mandarins Clinch Oahu Pennant; Will Play Title Series

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Sept. 11—The Chinese team of the Honolulu baseball league clinched the pennant by defeating the Braves four to nothing. The Braves declared they would protest the game because chief umpire Joy reversed the decision of the base umpire, calling a Braves baserunner out in the sixth inning on a decision at second base.

Luck Yee twirled for the Chinese team and held the Braves to five scattered hits.

The above dispatch from Honolulu by the Associated Press leaves no doubt but what the Chinese will represent Oahu in the Territorial baseball championship series that will be played on Saturday and Sunday of this week in Honolulu.

Maui team to the series will in all probability leave for the capital city on the steamer Kilauea, Wednesday, night from Kahului.

ANSWERS TO FRIDAY'S QUERIES

Chicago and Detroit established a new major-league record last year when they made forty-two hits in one game.

Leonard knocked out Kilbane in three rounds in 1917.

The high-run record for 18.2 balkline billiards—1009—is held by W. W. Spink.

The recognized record for skipping the rope is 11,810 times, made by J. B. Barnett, of New South Wales, in 1913.

Mrs. Goldie Greenwiel, of Cleveland, O., is said to be the only woman to bowl a perfect score in a match game.

"Three Musketeers" Massive Twelve Reel Photoplay, Here Soon

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Three Musketeers" will open a five nights engagement in the Maui theatres, beginning at the Kahului Theatre on Tuesday evening, September 12th. This masterpiece, said to be the greatest that Fairbanks has ever produced, is a massive 12 reel photoplay that takes its spectators back to the 17th century.

The story has to do with the plot of Cardinal Richelieu to bring about the downfall of Queen Anne of Austria, who with King Louis XIII ruled France in the 17th century. Being the power behind the throne, Cardinal Richelieu was jealous of the influence exerted by the queen. In order to discredit the queen, the cardinal conspired to involve her in an affair with the Duke of Buckingham, prime minister of England.

His plot was frustrated through the heroic work of D'Artagnan and his loyal friends, the three musketeers, in a most amazing series of adventures, duels, and thrills.

The inimitable Doug swaggers fights and makes love through this gorgeous multiple reel production and the mighty D'Artagnan again lives before our eyes, more vividly, if anything, than in the word pictures of the great French fictionists. Flashing swords, great sacrifices and daring deeds of heroism make this one of the most thrilling and fascinating picture yet seen in Maui theatres.

Fairbanks work as D. Artagnan entitles him to a position on the top-most rung of the ladder of fame. Those who have had their doubts as to Fairbanks ability as an actor of dramatic roles will quickly discard these doubts when they watch his presentation of the character of D'Artagnan. He is by far more dramatic than in any picture he has produced before. The scene in which he comes to the queen, exhausted, but with the jewels he was sent to recover, is one of the most dramatic and realistic ever seen on screen or stage.

Marguerite De La Motte's work in the part of Constance, the little seamstress who was the queens closest companion, and who was also in love with the intrepid and resourceful D'Artagnan, is clever.

Every other part is splendidly cast. Most notable among the players are Adolphe Menjou as King Louis XIII, Mary McLaren as Queen Anne, Nigel de Bruiler as Cardinal Richelieu, Thomas Holding as the Duke of Buckingham, Barbara La Marr as Milady de Winter, Boyd Irwin as Rochefort, Lon Poff as the gaunt, spectral monk, Father Joseph; Willis Roberts as De Treville, captain of the king's musketeers, and Leon Bary, George Seligman and Eugene Pallette as the three musketeers.

Look for the advertisement in this issue of Maui News of dates of play and theatres that will feature this great attraction.
